

Building Skills and Accelerating Careers in Health Data Science

Through its CPD and training provision, HDR UK is addressing the UK's data skills challenge and positioning it as a world leader in the use of data to improve health and care.

Our online learning environment HDR UK Futures contains a growing library of CPD accredited bitesize training videos, accessible on demand and free of charge, delivered by subject matter experts at the forefront of health data research.

New videos are added all the time to tailored learning pathways, interconnecting to form a complete curriculum of essential health data science topics supported by a calendar of live workshops and seminars, perfect for busy professionals.

HDR UK leverages the expertise of partnerships spanning NHS, academia, industry and charities to collaborate, share best practice and build an engaged community of stakeholders.

Our HDR UK-Turing Wellcome PhD and six Master's programmes provide a strong foundation for a career in health data science and apprenticeships offer alternate routes into the field. Our Black Internship Programme and Biomedical Vacation Scholarship are widening access and addressing underrepresentation in Health Data Science.
